The Embassy has supported the publication of the photo book „Phnom Penh – Capital City” which was launched on 16 March 2017. The book, published by the German geographer Dr. Michael Waibel, depicts the development of the city over several decades. It offers the opportunity to look at the city as a space which creates and reflects the cultural identity of its inhabitants. It also wants to provide an incentive for a further sustainable and people centered development of the city.
