The Goethe-Institut Vietnam is proud to announce that the “Hà Nội: CAPITAL City” photo book edited by Michael Waibel, senior researcher and project leader from Hamburg University, has received the “Bùi Xuân Phái – Love for Hanoi”-Award in the category “Best Works” on 23 September 2015.

Since 2008, the Newspaper Sports & Culture of Vietnam News Agency, together with the descendants of Vietnam’s most famous painter Bùi Xuân Phái, award this prize to projects which are dedicated to increase awareness and to contribute to the beauty of Hanoi City. Dr. Michael Waibel is the first German to receive this prestigious award.

The “Hà Nội: CAPITAL City” photo book was developed in close cooperation with the Goethe-Institut Vietnam and presents more than 600 photos illustrating urban development and life in the capital from a variety of views and social perspectives. Alongside the full colour photos are eight essays from Hanoi local residents reflecting on the remarkable qualities of Vietnam’s capital city.

The publication could only be realized thanks to the generous support of numerous sponsors, among them AUDI Vietnam, Schenker Vietnam and Fichtner Vietnam.

The large format photo publication, with more than 300 pages in a splendid format of 30x30 cm, is available through online distributors and at following bookshops in Hanoi:

- Infostones Bookshop, 41 Tràng Tiền, Hoàn Kiếm, Hà Nội
